

Submit your article today!

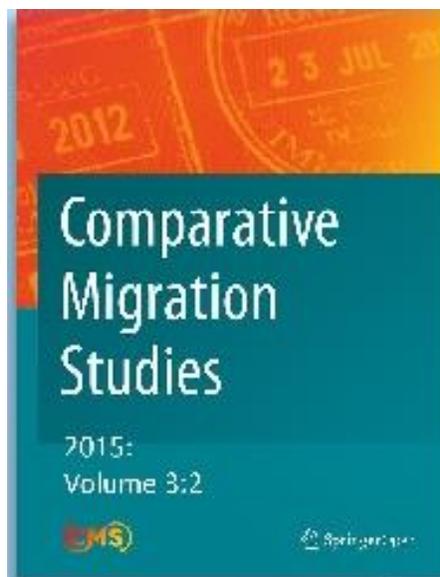

OPEN ACCESS

Comparative Migration Studies

Editors-in-Chief

Sawitri Saharso, University of Humanistic Studies, Utrecht and Free University Amsterdam, The Netherlands

Peter Scholten, Director of IMISCOE, Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands

Description

Comparative Migration Studies (CMS) is an international, peer-reviewed open access journal that provides a platform for articles that focus on comparative research in migration, integration, and race and ethnic relations. It presents readers with an extensive collection of comparative analysis, including studies between countries, groups, levels, and historical periods. CMS publishes research based on qualitative, quantitative, and mixed methods studies. Contributions cover a wide disciplinary angle across the social sciences and the humanities. We are looking for articles that push present understanding of migration integration, and race and ethnic relations in new conceptual, methodological, and empirical directions.

ISSN: 2214-594X (electronic only)

Affiliated with

IMISCOE

Collection: Migration Research in the Mediterranean in Perspective: Variable Focal Length

Editors: Ricard Zapata-Barrero and Luisa Faustini

This special issue aims to provide an updated picture of some new trends mapping the Mediterranean Migration Research Agenda. The contributions included in this Special Issue have been selected from the 15th IMISCOE Annual Conference in Barcelona (2018), which reaffirmed the importance of the Mediterranean region for research in Migration Studies. They offer recent and original reflections coming from several disciplines and applying a variety of methodologies and levels of analysis. The selection of articles covers different approaches that go from the nature of human (im)mobility to the policies and relations among states that arise within this context. It also includes a first contribution on the political ethics of migration that frame a reference for dialogue with the rest of contributions.

Editorial: Ricard Zapata Barrero. (2020) “Mediterranean Thinking” for mapping a Mediterranean migration research agenda.

Mare nostrum: the political ethics of migration in the Mediterranean

Rainer Bauböck

Lost in limbo? Navigating (im)mobilities and practices of appropriation of non-deportable refugees in the Mediterranean area

Sarah Nimführ and Buba Sesay

Framing migration in the southern Mediterranean: how do civil society actors evaluate EU migration policies? The case of Tunisia

Ferruccio Pastore and Emanuela Roman

Emigrant citizenship, privileged local belonging and the option to return: Germans on the Turkish coast

Margit Fauser

Migration as one of several adaptation strategies for environmental limitations in Tunisia: evidence from El Faouar

Karolina Sobczak-Szelc and Naima Fekih

Another nexus? Exploring narratives on the linkage between EU external migration policies and the democratization of the southern Mediterranean neighbourhood

Luisa Faustini-Torres

For more information on Comparative Migration Studies, please visit www.comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com